

ADDITIONAL EDITORIAL REVIEWERS, 2007

Each year the Journal of Research in Character Education reviews articles from scholars, researchers, and practitioners in a range of disciplines utilizing a wide set of approaches and methods. In addition to our usual reviewers on the Editorial Review Board the following persons have reviewed manuscripts for us this past year. Their expertise was sought to supplement our review process and the editors appreciate their diligence, their insightful critiques, and their scholarly contribution to the field of Character Education. Their assistance has improved the quality and clarity of the articles published here, and for that both authors and editors are grateful.
