In section 3 on pages 85 and 87, the sentence beginning ‘In the present study, the software for static analysis...’ cites work by Hinton and Owen (1984). The correct citation is Kasim (2006). The corrected sentence follows here with the corresponding reference.

In the present study, the software for static analysis of reinforced concrete of plates and shells based on degenerated element (Kasim, 2006) was modified and coded in MATLAB language for dynamic analysis of reinforced concrete beams through benefiting from the following programs.
