

CONFERENCE CALENDAR

Charles Schlosser

Nova Southeastern University

The following conferences may be of interest to the readers of the Quarterly Review of Distance Education.

E-Learn World Conference on E-Learning, October 15–18, Las Vegas, NV

“E-Learn—World Conference on E-Learning is an international conference organized by the AACPE-Association for the Advancement of Computing in Education and cosponsored by the International Journal on E-Learning. E-Learn provides a unique forum for Government, Healthcare, Education, and Business professionals to discuss the latest research, development, applications, issues, and strategies, to explore new technologies, and to identify solutions for today’s challenges related to online learning. A variety of opportunities and venues are designed to enable participants to actively learn from and collaborate with a multinational, cross-industry expert faculty and peers on the research, development, diverse learning experiences, implementation and technology needed to improve e-learning.”
<https://www.aace.org/conf/elearn/>

AECT International Convention, October 23–27, Kansas City, MO

“The AECT International Convention brings together participants from around the world, offering practical applications, cutting-edge research, hands-on workshops, and demonstrations of new technologies in teaching and learning. Take this opportunity to connect with your peers! The goal of the convention is for participants from around the world to learn from the experiences and activities of the convention, enriching their professional lives.”
https://aect.org/2018_aect_international_conven.php

Future of Education Technology Conference (FETC), January 27–30, 2019, Orlando, FL

“For nearly 40 years, the Future of Education Technology Conference has gathered the most dynamic and creative education professionals from around the world for an intensive, highly collaborative exploration of new technologies, best practices and pressing issues. Its impact has been felt by thousands of districts, schools,

• Charles Schlosser, Associate Professor Emeritus, Fischler College of Education, Nova Southeastern University, 3301 College Avenue, Fort Lauderdale, FL 33314. E-mail: charles.schlosser@nova.edu

The Quarterly Review of Distance Education, Volume 19(1), 2018, pp. 53–54
Copyright © 2018 Information Age Publishing, Inc.

ISSN 1528-3518
All rights of reproduction in any form reserved.

educators—and ultimately students. Each year, FETC is tailored to the needs of an increasingly technology-driven education community—and 2019 will be no exception. The 39th National Future of Education Technology Conference features industry experts and unrivaled agenda content, an Expo Hall filled with the latest and greatest solutions, and a community of thousands eager to network with like-minded peers. Your colleagues at FETC may come with different experiences and expertise, but they share your challenges and goals. School and district administrators, classroom teachers, IT professionals, special education directors, curriculum and media specialists, and other educators with roles or interest in ed tech, attend FETC year after year to find the professional learning, technology solutions and connections they need to transform learning in and out of the classroom. Join them for four days of collaboration, innovation and learning, and discover new ways to spark change with technology.”

<http://www.fetc.org/>

SITE, March 18-22, 2019, Las Vegas, NV

“SITE 2019 in Las Vegas, Nevada, is the 30th annual conference of the Society for Information Technology and Teacher Education. This society represents individual teacher educators and affiliated organizations of teacher educators in all disciplines, who are interested in the creation and dissemination of knowledge about the use of information technology in teacher education and faculty/staff development.”
<http://site.aace.org/>